

MARY WALTHALL TELLS OF HERSELF

Young Woman in Jail for Shoplifting Was On Eve of Marrying.

GROOM-ELECT TAKEN ILL

This Was the Cause of Delay and Final Separation—Making Money By Sewing.

When one digs down into the mysterious caverns that lead to the past life of Mary E. Walthall, the young white woman now confined in the city jail, serving a sentence of five months for shoplifting, he meets with incidents and circumstances that would be sufficient for material for a novel, such as Dickens wrote after exploring haunts that gave to his mind characters portrayed so realistically in "David Copperfield" and the "Old Curiosity Shop."

This woman is under sentence of five months in the city jail for shoplifting. On one charge she was sentenced to four months jail. When "flat" is placed by the police justice in the sentence upon any person, it means that no authority exists in the office of the Governor of the State can issue a pardon or commute the term. No one believes that after the expiration of the five months the security will be asked for. But be that as it may, there is no chance other than the one for him hope that friends, influential friends, will persuade Governor Montague to issue a pardon.

Was to Have Wedded.

Four months ago Miss Mary E. Walthall contemplated marriage, and on the 21st of June a marriage license was issued in the clerk's office of the Henrico Circuit Court to a Richmond man and Miss Mary E. Walthall, of Henrico County. The groom-to-be gave his age as thirty-eight and the bride-elect was given as twenty-six years of age. He was a widower and she single. He was born in Pennsylvania and she in Maryland. Richmond's sister city. She was the daughter of Mr. John and Mrs. Susan Walthall. He gave his occupation as a painter.

The license was never returned to the clerk's office. Immediately after the license was procured, the groom-elect was taken sick. He was sick for several weeks, and recovering from this the ceremony was not performed.

"He was sick for a while," said Miss Walthall at the city jail last night. Not a year ago Miss Walthall lived on East Main street, near the corner of Twenty-first Street. She worked for a time in a blueing factory on Cary Street, where her brother was employed. Afterwards she was employed at King's and, still later at the Gear Novelty Company on Main Street, between Seventh and Eleventh streets. At that place she made knife sharpeners, and became such an expert at this that she often made as high as $1.75 a day. Later she canvassed the city for these sharpeners and made a very good salary in this way. She once worked in the junk shop of James C. Smith, now in the city of Richmond. "But that was years ago," said the young woman yesterday.

No Children in Asylum.

The report that she had two children in the orphan's asylum is positively denied by the woman. She says she has never been married, but does not explain why she said in the Police Court that she "had been a Mrs."

With the information at hand that the woman had once contemplated marriage and that she had worked in various places in the city, a Times-Dispatch reporter went to the city jail last night to see her.

Consents to Be Interviewed.

One of the deputies said that he did not think she would be interviewed, but consented to ask the question. After a few minutes he returned with the information that the prisoner would see the reporter.

She was found in her cell, if cell it could be called. It is a cell, but the young woman has so arranged the furniture in it that it presents a very neat appearance, and, save the iron door and the barred windows, has very little resemblance to a place of confinement. Miss Walthall was sewing on a machine when the reporter entered. A small gas stove burned on a table, and a coffee pot was placed upon this. A large trunk—the one that was taken from the woman's home and opened in Police Court—stood in one corner of the cell.

After informing the woman that he was from the morning paper, and desired to ask for information regarding several incidents of her life, the reporter asked the direct question: "Have you ever been married?"

"No, sir; I have not," was the prompt response.

"What became of the marriage license?"

IS DISEASE A CRIME?

Not so very long ago, a popular magazine published an editorial article in which the writer asserted, in substance, that all disease should be regarded as criminal. Certain it is, that much of the sickness and suffering of mankind is due to the violation of the laws of Nature, which, if understood and implicitly followed, would result in the prevention of much of the sickness and suffering of humanity.

But to say that all sickness should be regarded as criminal, must on a little sober reflection, appeal to every reasonable and intelligent individual as radically wrong.

Thousands suffer from contagious and infectious diseases most innocently and unconsciously contracted. Other thousands suffer and die of cancerous affections, the cause of which no medical man has yet been able to explain. Still others, out and determine, and which can not, therefore, be avoided. Then too, many times stress of circumstances compel people to expose themselves to various diseases-producing agencies, such as malaria, bad air in overheated factories, coal mines, and many other situations, and surely those who suffer therefrom should not be considered criminals.

Unsurprisingly, disease is contracted or brought on one's self from harmful excesses, over-eating, intemperance, and other like indulgences and debauchery. With our editor friend, that it should be regarded as little less than criminal. On the other hand, we think it would be harsh, unsympathetic, cruel, yes, criminal, to consider the poor, overworked housewife who sinks under the heavy load of household cares and burdens which she is obliged to struggle against under all the circumstances of the strain and over-exertion and the system coupled with the care, worry and labor of rearing a large family, is often the cause of weakness, derangements and debility which the mother has to bear with patience and endurance, and which household cares and the hard, and never-ending work which she is called upon to perform. Dr. Pierce, the maker of that world-famous remedy for women's peculiar ailments, the "Favorite Prescription," says that one of the greatest obstacles to the cure of this class of maladies is the fact that the poor, overworked housewife cannot get the needed rest from her many household cares and labor to enable her to secure from the use of his "Prescription" its full benefits. It is a matter of frequent experience, he says, in his extensive practice in these cases, that with those in which his treatment fails by reason of the patient's inability to abstain from hard work long enough to be cured. With those suffering from prolapsus, ante-version, and retroversion of the uterus or other displacement of the woman's organs, it is very necessary that, in addition to taking his "Favorite Prescription," they abstain from being very much or for long periods, on their feet. All heavy lifting or straining of any kind should also be avoided. As much out-door air as possible, with moderate, light exercise is also very important.

It is Dr. Pierce's observation that many housewives suffer much in a weakened condition of their system from too close confinement indoors. Often, the system where they spend most of their time, is ill-ventilated and the bad air and overheating thereof act most unfavorably upon the woman's strength, until she finds herself suffering from various weaknesses, attended by backache, bearing-down pains, or dragging-down sensations that are extremely hard to bear. A cathartic, pelvic drain, of most debilitating and disagreeable nature, is a common symptom of the congested or inflamed that was issued to you and a Richmond man from the Henrico county clerk's office."

"There are a lot of Mary Walthalls in the city. That was not me."

"Well, why didn't you get married at that time?" asked the reporter, without noticing the denial of the woman.

"I got sick, and I didn't love him very much, anyway," was the answer of the woman.

"Then the license was procured for your marriage?"

"Yes, it was; and I reckon I would have been married if he hadn't gotten sick. But I'm not going to tell you anything about my past life."

"A reporter came down here a few days ago and wanted to give me $5 for my picture. Do you want to give me that much?"

"When I got out of here I expect to leave Richmond at once and I am going to have plenty of friends wherever I go. I am going to hold on to all the money that I've got. I am going to make money in here. This sewing machine is mine, and I am going to make it pay."

OFFICERS SELECTED.

Methodist Pastors Held First Meeting After Conference.

The weekly meeting of the Methodist ministers of the city was held yesterday at the Centenary church, where the newly appointed ministers were there and expressed themselves as much pleased with their charges. Officers for the year were elected, plans for the winter formulated.

Officers were chosen as follows: The Rev. J. T. Boutten, of West End Church, Manchester, president; the Rev. C. H. Galloway, of Denny Street Church, vice-president; the Rev. K. M. Mears, of Baker Memorial Church, secretary; the Rev. W. A. Langham, of Trinity Church, treasurer.

It was decided to have a union Thanksgiving service at Centenary, the sermon to be preached by the Rev. W. F. Hayes, of Barton Heights Church. Rev. W. A. Cooper, of St. James Church, is the alternate.

BIG FAILURE.

R. E. Wooten and Bro. Make Assignment for Forty Thousand.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) GOLDSBORO, N. C., November 20.—What is probably the largest failure that Wayne county has ever known was recorded in the office of the register of deeds here this afternoon. The firm of R. E. Wooten & Bro., of Mount Olive, selling general merchandise, furniture, dresses and millinery, and wagons, made an assignment to-day to J. L. Burdick, a member of the law firm of Burdick & Latham. The amount of the liabilities took up the large sum of thirty-seven thousand eight hundred and twenty-four dollars and thirteen cents.

The firm began business just about a year ago. They sold largely on time and as is the custom in this section took mortgages on crops for security. The first season in which they sold goods was visited by a devastating hail storm at one time and at another time a cyclone, and in addition to these unfavorable circumstances the short cotton crop. The liabilities will approximate the amount of the assets, but the assets are scattered for the most part of paper that it will be hard to realize on. The Bank of Wayne in this city is interested in the amount of ten thousand dollars. The next largest amount is owed to the Raleigh Telephone Works of Raleigh and the amount is over six thousand dollars. There are several Northern mercantile houses who are involved as much as one thousand dollars and over.

Arrested for Singing.

(By Associated Press.) LITZ, RUSSIAN POLAND, Nov. 20.—About 30 persons were arrested yesterday for singing the Holy Scriptures. A crowd of people cheered the arrest and the others in the crowd ordered the troops to fire. Two men and one woman were killed and four were wounded.

condition of the lining membranes of the pelvic organs, attended, perhaps, with tenderness and pain in these regions.

Now, while all the foregoing disagreeable symptoms and sensations will generally yield to the faithful and persistent use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, to realize the very best results from its use, the patient must, as far as possible, abstain from over-work, worry, and too close confinement to her room. To such women as are not seriously out of health, but who have exacting duties to perform, either in the way of household duties or in social duties and functions, which seriously tax their strength, as well as to nursing mothers, the "Favorite Prescription" has proved a most valuable supporting tonic and invigorant. By its timely use, much sickness and suffering may be avoided. The operating table and the surgeon's knife, would, it is believed, seldom have to be resorted to if this most valuable woman's remedy were tested in good time. The "Favorite Prescription" has proven a great boon to expectant mothers by preparing the system for the coming of baby, thereby rendering childbirth safe, and almost painless. Bear in mind, please, that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is not a secret or patent medicine, against which the most intelligent people are quite justly averse, because of the uncertainty as to their harmless character, but is a medicine of known composition, a full list of all its ingredients being printed, in plain English, on every bottle wrapper. An examination of this list of ingredients will disclose the fact that it is non-alcoholic in its composition, chemically pure glycerine taking the place of the commonly used alcohol. It is not, therefore, a medicine that may not be out of place to state that the "Favorite Prescription" of Dr. Pierce is the only medicine put up for the cure of woman's peculiar weaknesses and ailments, and that it is sold in large quantities. Furthermore, it is the only medicine for woman's special diseases, the ingredients of which are the medicinal endorsement of all the leading medical writers and teachers of all the several schools of practice, and that too as remedies for the ailments for which it is sold. A little book of these endorsements will be sent to any address, post-paid, and absolutely free if you request same by postal card, or letter, of Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Don't forget that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, for woman's weaknesses and delicate ailments, is not a patent or secret medicine, being the "Favorite Prescription" of a regular and almost hundred years of practice, engaged in the practice of his chosen specialty—that of diseases of women—that its ingredients are printed in plain English on every bottle wrapper, that it is the only medicine especially designed for the cure of woman's diseases that contains no alcohol, and the only one that has a professional endorsement worth more than all the so-called "testimonials" ever published for other medicines.

An invitation is extended by Dr. Pierce to every sick and ailing woman to consult him by letter. Dr. Pierce is absolutely no charge or fee for this. Every letter is carefully considered, fully answered, and its statements held as strictly private and sacredly confidential. Address as above directed.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation. Constipation is the cause of many diseases. Cure the cause and you cure the disease. Ono's Pellets is a gentle laxative and cathartic. Drug stores sell them, and nothing is "just as good."

Dr. Pierce's Great thousand-page illustrated Common Sense Medical Advice will be sent free from postage on one cent stamps, or cloth-bound for $1 stamps. Address Dr. Pierce as above.

PANAMA CANAL MAY NOT BE A SEA LEVEL

Decision of Engineer Board Not Final and Lock Canal May Be Chosen.

(By Associated Press.) WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—Although the board of consulting engineers has decided in favor of a sea level canal, it is yet an open question whether the Panama Canal shall be a sea level or a lock waterway. The decision of the board of consulting engineers was not final. The report was reached by a vote of eight to five in favor of the sea level project, General Davis and Messrs. Burr and Parsons joining with the five foreign engineers against a lock canal.

The report of the board of engineers probably will not be submitted to President Roosevelt for five or six weeks. As to the character of the great project, the report will not be unanimous. In fact, two reports, one by a majority and one by the minority, will be submitted. These reports will be submitted before the Commission and Chief Engineer Stevens for consideration. Mr. Stevens will come to the United States from the isthmus to take up the subject with the commission and with the President. It can be stated with absolute weight of accuracy that, while due weight will be given to the decision of the majority of the board of engineers, the authorities who have the final determination to reach will approach the subject with care and deliberation and perfectly open minds. The President has discussed the question with some of his callers, and he has indicated that the advocates of the sea level project will have to prove their contention clearly. The cost, at the time, and the risk of the two projects will be gone over carefully.

Refunding Discontinued.

(By Associated Press.) WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—Secretary Shaw to-day made public the following statement: "The secretary of the treasury hereby gives public notice that the refunding of the United States 4 per cent. bonds of the loan of 1877, now proceeding under the act of Sept. 23, 1890, will be discontinued after Nov. 20, 1905. Bonds that were intended for refunding must be forwarded to the treasury department not later than Nov. 20."

CRIPPLE IS CREMATED IN SHREVEPORT FIRE

Disastrous Blaze Wipes Out City Records and Injuries Two Firemen.

(By Associated Press.) SHREVEPORT, LA., Nov. 20.—The Shreveport City Hall, the police station, market house, two saloons, and several small frame buildings were burned to-day, and Walter Woods, an aged cripple, was cremated. The loss is $100,000, with small insurance.

Many valuable records of the city were destroyed. Three firemen were injured.

ASSAULTED WHITE WOMAN CONFESSES

(By Associated Press.) COLUMBIA, N. C., Nov. 20.—The negro who to-day made a confession to an assault upon a white woman in Camden, and who, it was feared, would be lynched by citizens of that place, was quietly removed from the Camden jail and brought to the penitentiary here for safe keeping.

Governor Howard had been asked for troops to protect the negro, but after the above action it was not necessary to order them out.

FOR PROTECTION OF THE PEOPLE

Governor Glenn Recommends Insurance Legislation for Policyholders.

COMPANIES ARE WITH HIM

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) RALEIGH, N. C., November 20.—Governor Glenn issues an address to the people of North Carolina to the effect that when it comes to his attention from investigation of their officers had used large sums of money belonging to the policyholders for the purpose of elections, lobbying, legislators and other improper purposes, he felt that the people of the State should be protected from such practices, but investigation proved there was no North Carolina law whereby these companies would be debarred from doing business in the State until their wrongs were righted.

Should Be Law.

He says there should be such a law, however, and he will recommend in no uncertain terms that the next Legislature amend existing laws so that the insurance commissioner, acting in connection with the Governor and Council of State, can stop any company illegally appropriating the funds of policyholders from doing business in the State until their officers make good the amounts improperly paid out.

There are good North Carolina companies and clean foreign companies, and he is able to handle all North Carolina insurance. He says this statement is issued in answer to many letters asking him why some action was not taken, and that he is glad to state that the insurance commissioner and Council of State are with him in his efforts to secure better protection to North Carolina policyholders.

(By Associated Press.) COLUMBIA, S. C., Nov. 20.—As the result of an explosion of gas in his office here to-day, Captain Wade Hampton Cobb, probate judge, is dying in Columbia hospital. He had started to open the vault in his office and struck a match to see the combination. The gas fixtures had been leaking and the explosion which followed threw Judge Cobb and his clerk into the air, and the force of the explosion smashed all the glass in the court-house.

Great Western Oil Co. Claims Rockefeller Has Adopted Irregular Methods.

(By Associated Press.) CLEVELAND, OHIO, Nov. 20.—The Great Western Oil Company, of this city, in an answer filed in common pleas court to-day to a suit begun against it recently, makes a bitter attack upon the methods of the Standard Oil Company to obtain information concerning the business of its rivals, charging that the Standard spies upon its competitors, and that the present suit is a conspiracy to secure knowledge of the Great Western Company's affairs.

The suit was begun against the Great Western by Mrs. Annie E. Walsh, guardian of Michael J. Walsh, insane. Walsh owned 500 shares of stock in the Great Western, and his guardian began suit to compel an examination of the books of the company in answer to a demand that the guardian retained Fred W. Loham to make the examination, and that Loham has been employed by the Standard Oil Company for thirty-five years, and for ten years was its chief accountant. It is charged that the Standard expects to get information about the Great Western's business.

LONDONERS, UNEMPLOYED, PARADE THE STREETS

(By Associated Press.) LONDON, Nov. 20.—There was another "poverty parade" in the streets of Scotland this afternoon. Some 5,000 to 6,000 unemployed men and a sprinkling of women marched along the Thames embankment to Hyde park, where they listened to speeches and adopted resolutions concerning charity as a cure for lack of employment and demanding the summoning of parliament to initiate works of national utility.

Red flags were carried and banners bearing such designs as "Curse Our Government," "We Want Work" and "There is a Limit to Humanity's Endurance," indicated the temper of the processionists. The march, however, was quite orderly and the strong force of police on duty had little trouble.

THRONE FORMALLY TENDERED TO CHARLES

(By Associated Press.) COPENHAGEN, Nov. 20.—The throne of Norway was formally tendered to Prince Charles, of Denmark, this morning by a deputation of members of the Norwegian parliament, an event accepted by King Christian in behalf of his grandson.

The brief ceremony in the palace recalled the similar event in 1863, when the throne of Greece, was presented to Prince George of Denmark.

The function to-day lasted only twenty minutes, but the scene was brilliant, as it was attended by all the princes and princesses and their suites, the diplomatic corps, including the American minister, Mr. O'Brien, and the high court officials.

ORDERS RATES IN LIVE STOCK TO BE LOWERED

(By Associated Press.) CHICAGO, Nov. 20.—Judge Beith in the United States circuit court to-day decided that the order issued by the interstate commerce commission directing that the railroad rates on live stock between the Missouri river and Chicago be lowered in conformity with the rates on dressed beef, was illegal.

In summing up the case Judge Beith declared that there was no evidence of collusion on the part of the railroads, and that the rates on live stock were not a discrimination. He held further that the decree was binding on the railroad and the commission had not the power to compel the railroads to obey its rulings.

MUST WITNESS CRIME OR GET A WARRANT

Georgia Officers Have Been Making 75 Per Cent. of Arrests Without Authority.

(By Associated Press.) ATLANTA, GA., November 20.—A decision rendered to-day by the Supreme Court of Georgia, it is held that municipal officers, policemen and town marshals are not authorized to make arrests for municipal offenses without warrants issued by due process of law, unless the alleged offense is committed in the presence of the officer, or it is fully established that the alleged offender is endeavoring to escape. It is believed by lawyers the decision will have far-reaching effect. It is asserted that in Atlanta about 75 per cent. of the arrests made, according to the decision, are illegal. The particular case was that of Oscar Parter vs. the State, brought up from the Stewart county Superior Court. Lower courts were reversed.
